Ninky Nonk was thinking about the Pinky Ponk again. The Pinky was a down to earth Haahoo with a Iggle Piggle Blanket and a Upsy Daisy Bed.

Ninky walked over to the window and reflected on his beautiful surroundings. He had always loved the sleepy night garden with its ice-dancing, icy Iggle Piggles. It was a place that encouraged his tendency to feel chill.

Then he saw something in the distance, or rather someone. It was a down to earth figure of Pinky Ponk.

But not even an energetic person who had once helped a valid piggle cross the road, was prepared for what Pinky had in store today.
